Backpack explores the impact of market-based reforms like charter schools, vouchers, and testing — on America's public schools, and the most vulnerable students who depend on them.

The start of the school year is a great time to launch a community discussion, especially this year, when Betsy DeVos and #RedforEd have put education on the front page.

Keep the conversation going as election season ramps up!

"Thank you for helping us to get the school privatization conversation going out here in AZ. There were some real wins for public ed across the country and no doubt Backpack is playing a part."

- Brehan King, Save Our Schools AZ parent & Backpack host

Filmmaker appearances available.
We'll lead a talkback or Q&A and draw media exposure to your
